

Abundance magazine is the official publication of SaskOrganics—a farmer-led, membership based, non-profit provincial association that represents all certified organic operations in Saskatchewan.

Each issue of the magazine includes three regular features: Innovate (featuring a Saskatchewan certified organic producer); Nourish (a farm to table theme that features Saskatchewan chefs who are doing just that, with a focus on organic ingredients); Sustain (best organic agronomic practices); as well as industry news, upcoming events, and more.

Abundance is published four times per year and has a circulation of 1,300 copies. Approximately 1,200 of these are mailed to SaskOrganics members, industry stakeholders, and provincial and federal elected officials, while the remaining copies are distributed at industry conferences, events, and tradeshows throughout the year.

CANVA SPECIFICATIONS

Below are specification settings for people wanting to use Canva to create their ad image. The dimensions shown are for a quarter page ad, but are to be followed for any size.

Create a custom design using the Printed size dimensions of your ad.

In the top left of Canva click File and select the options shown below: Show rulers and guides, margins, and print bleed.

When you're done, select Share > Download and change your selection to what's shown above.

Changing the colour profile to CMYK is best if you are a premium user, but not vital.

Safe area: Keep all important information within this space as much as possible. Text, logos, contact information, etc.

Margin and bleed area:
The bleed area is an extension of the margin design.
